KEARSARGE MEMENTO

Suggestion That the State or Carroll County Procure Metal from the Old War Ship and Present it to the New Battleship as an Ornament or Figure Head

An opportunity appears to be open to the people of New Hampshire to provide for the United States battleship Kearsarge, which is now being built at Newport News, an ornament or useful article which would be at once unique, appropriate and of historic value.

There are in the possession of Mr. Benjamin F. Butler, Jr., of Newton Highlands, Mass., about 450 pounds of old metal, principally brass and copper, which was raised from the wreck of the famous warship Kearsarge. The Kearsarge, although preserved for many years after the close of the war in which she won fame and glory, was finally buffeted to pieces by the sea on the rocks of Roncadore reef. The rest of the metal raised from the wreck, comprising some 13,000 pounds, it is said, has been disposed of and used for commercial purposes.

Mr. Butler, the owner of the remaining metal from the war ship, called on the Sentinel while in Keene a few days ago, and after explaining the conditions under which the brass and copper came into his possession and producing letters and affidavits to substantiate his statements, suggested that his material be used to make a figurehead, bas relief panel or some appropriate emblem to be placed in or upon the new battleship by the citizens of New Hampshire.

The idea seems to be worthy of public attention and one which might easily be taken hold of by some organization like the New Hampshire club, for instance, or some specially appointed committee, and put into successful execution. The Kearsarge ought to receive some fitting testimonial from our state. And what could be more fitting than an emblem cast from the metal of her glorious predecessor in name and given by the people of the state in which the granite crest of Mount Kearsarge so proudly stands?

Carroll county has here an opportunity if such a testimonial was contemplated for the monitor Monadnock it would be proper for the people of Cheshire county to take the initiative and perhaps to complete the undertaking. As it is, it would seem more proper for such a movement to emanate from Carroll county or from the state capital. The Sentinel calls public attention to the opportunity and awaits further action or suggestions.

It should be stated in this connection that Mr. Butler does not appear to be trying to make a speculation out of the sale of this metal. He offers to sell the entire lot of 450 lbs for $75. To prove that the metal is genuine he has a certificate of the master and mate of the schooner Cayman of Kingston, Jamaica, who raised the material from the wreck and sold it to F. N. Lambert & Co., of Grand Cayman, together with letters apparently tracing its shipment to Boston, where it subsequently came into his hands. -- Keene Sentinel.

The above suggestion is a good one and an effort should be made to carry out the plan. Portsmouth could be depended upon to do her share.

The governor and council should take the initiative step and the gift should be made.

NOT UNTIL AFTER ELECTION.

There will be no modification of the civil service regulations until after the fall elections. This statement is made by a republican official who has talked with the president. If the civil service laws were modified at this time the higher officials of the government would be overwhelmed by applications for positions. It is felt that most of these applications would come from soldiers who participated in the Cuban campaign, because they would naturally consider themselves as entitled to first consideration. As there are not enough places for all the people, the officials would be compelled to disappoint several thousand, and in doing so, would incur the illwill of the unfortunate ones.

The Herald Was Right

KITTERY, Me. Oct. 6.

EDITOR OF HERALD:--The few democrats in Kittery who have been, with two alleged republicans, siding in an attempt to defeat Francis Keefe to his right to a seat in the Maine State legislature have found a paper in Portsmouth capable of placing their false doings before the people as being right and just.

It is the trait of politicians who see their exposure coming to rush into print in an attempt to blind the people. The article in last evening's Herald on the result of the hearing at Alfred, Me. was absolutely correct. Judge Savage ordered a writ of mandamus to compel Clerk F. E. Duncanson to allow an examination of the ballots. He also gave as his opinion that Mr. Keefe had a right to examine the ballots and that it was the intent of the law to so provide. Judge Savage was a member of the Judiciary committee that perfected this very law. Judge Emery took an appeal from the court's decision.

The professed desire of Mr. Staples to have an examination of the ballots does not appear to have shown itself at the hearing. The writer challenges those who maintain that Judge Savage's decision was not as printed in the Herald, to prove their claim. The records will show that his decision was just as printed in your paper.

CITY BRIEFS.

A buckboard party composed of young people left for Newfields at 11 o'clock to participate in the reception following the Prime-Simpson nuptials.

The wedding of Herbert Orman Prime of this city to Miss Harriette Garland Simpson of Newfields is scheduled to be celebrated in Newfields this afternoon. A large number of young people from this city are in attendance.

An invitation has been received by Canton Senter, Patriarchs Militant, of this city, from headquarters in Concord, to visit that city next Tuesday, Oct. 11, and join in a parade in honor of Hon. A. S. Pickerton, Grand Sire and Commander in Chief, who will visit the Grand encampment and Grand Lodge of New Hampshire on that date.

GREENLEAF-MARDEN.

Mr. Gardner J. Greenleaf, candidate for governor on the people's ticket, and who is one of the best-known of Portsmouth's citizens, was united in marriage on Wednesday evening, the 5th inst., to Mrs. Annie Marden of this city. The ceremony took place at the rectory on State street, Rev. Henry Emerson Hovey officiating. At the close of the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Greenleaf were driven to No. 2 Warren street, where they will reside. The happy couple have the best wishes of hosts of friends for all the good things of life and that the joys of their honeymoon may not be disturbed by the arduous duties of the political canvass. Mr. Greenleaf is making for his party.

IS IT "UTTERLY INCORRECT?"

The Herald's Version Compared With That of Biddford Papers

The Herald said:
"After listening to all the testimony the court decided that as the ballots were public records Mr. Keefe had a right to inspect them. Mr. Staples and George Mitchell were present and upon the court's decision they took an appeal to the higher court. Judge S. W. Emery of this city appeared for Staples."

The Biddford Journal says:
"Judge Savage ruled that a defeated candidate had a legal interest in such public records sufficient to warrant his access to them and ordered that the requested mandamus should issue. Judge Emery fled exceptions and the matter goes to the full bench, briefs to be filed within 30 days."

The Biddford Record says:
The court ruled that the ballots should be kept as public records subject to inspection by any one who is legally interested in a case. Judge Emery counsel for Staples, will go to the law court.

Now come the "correct" version in the Portsmouth Times and note the vast difference between the "correct" and "incorrect" versions.

The Times is satisfied that there had been no fraud but on the petition of Keefe for a recount, ruled that the ballots were a public record and could be referred to by an interested party under proper restrictions and regulations, and in the absence of any law in regard to a case of the kind, the matter was referred to the full bench.

RESPECTING BALLOT BOXES

Cities and Towns Will Provide Their Own Styles

Ezra G. Sherris, secretary of state, has sent out circulars to the town officers throughout the state, giving special information about ballot boxes. The circular reads as follows:

The attention of the selectmen of towns and the mayors and aldermen of cities is called to the recent change in the law of the state concerning ballot boxes. The terms of the law of 1897 are as follows:

"Cities and towns shall provide suitable ballot boxes which shall be used at all elections therein."

There are no other legal requirements concerning the character and style of the ballot box to be used at future elections. So far as the terms of the law are concerned there is no legal objection to a ballot box now in use. The size of the ballot, however, under the new law will prohibit their continued use without modification. They will not receive a ballot when folded wider than four and one-half inches.

The ballot to be prepared for the election of 1898, when folded, will be about six inches wide. In some instances the ballot will be wider. In the larger towns and wards of the state a new ballot box is recommended. The box should be larger than the box now in use.

SURRENDER

The Great Comedy War Drama Coming Soon

The above title seemed to arouse the curiosity of the New York public so much so that on the opening night the house was packed to the hilt. The success of the play was instantaneous and during the entire New York engagement the theatre was crowded. The same big success was duplicated in all the large cities. The company is headed by the pretty charming soubrette, Miss Katherine Rober, and supported by the big favorites, the famous Lillian Kennedy Company.

Contest for Representative

The republican committees of ward two held a meeting on Wednesday evening and made up a ticket to present to the caucus on Friday evening next.

There were eight candidates for representative and the choice of the three candidates was made by ballot.

M. M. Collins and J. H. Gardiner were chosen on the first ballot and then the real struggle began between A. C. Anderson, H. B. Dow and Dr. S. F. A. Pickerton, finally terminating on the seventh ballot in the choice of Mr. Anderson.

The balance of the ticket was then adopted as follows:
Moderator--Washington Freeman.
Ward Clerk--John D. Randall.
Selectmen--J. Warren Prior, Chas. E. Joy and S. F. A. Pickerton.
Registrars--George M. Ayers, Willie F. Weeks and Edward Bowley.

REGULAR WARD FOUR REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

The republicans of ward four will hold a caucus at the South ward room, on Marcy street, on Friday evening, Oct. 7th, 1898, at 7.30, to nominate a representative to the general court, three (3) selectmen, moderator, inspector of clock lists and ward clerk, to be voted for at the coming November election. J. M. VAUGHAN, Chairman.
S. T. NEWTON, Secretary.

She was a graduate of the Kittery High school. She was not considered dangerously ill until the night previous to her death, when she began to sink rapidly and it was seen that the end was near. The parents have the sympathy of the entire village. She is survived by two sisters and several brothers, among the latter being Corporal Oliver P. Philbrick of Co. A, First New Hampshire Volunteers of Portsmouth.

Rice's "The Ballet Girl"

The first big spectacular event of the season will be Edward E. Rice's superb production of his late musical extravaganza success, "The Ballet Girl" which will be presented this evening at Music Hall with all the original company which characterized this production in New York and Boston for the greater portion of last season.

"The Ballet Girl" is said to be one of the best things Manager Rice has ever offered. It is clocked a block with situations legitimately laughable, with tuneful airs and twinkling limbs, with dialogue that is almost always humorous and at times really witty, and with perhaps the most original topical song that has been heard here for years. The first act, in a word, is as full as it can stick with sparkling points. It contains some exquisite caricatures, broadly drawn, of course; it moves forward in a straight-forward way almost outwitting it to the designation of a plot, and all is so lively, so changeable and so exhilarating that it is not putting it too strong to dub it a delirium of delights.

The Heart of Maryland

The story as told of Belasco, the now famous dramatist that when a boy standing in front of a theatre in San Francisco, and looking up at the edifice, the manager passing in said, "Well, sonny, would you like to own this theatre."

"No, I'd rather own what makes the theatre, sir."

"And what is that?"

"The play," was the prompt reply. The manager was the late Thomas Maguire and years afterwards, the dreaming boy grown to manhood wrote the play that crowded the theatre for weeks and brought him into the light of fame.

Rev. M. W. Northwick of Manchester, the noted temperance agitator and member of the State Law and Order League, arrived in town this morning and the liquor dealers are on the anxious seat.

Mr. Northwick's visits to this city are always a source of nervousness to dispensers of the ardent and they fail to draw a good long breath until he takes the train for home. This morning he visited the office of internal revenue collector Wood and there inspected the big ledgers whose pages show the names of those who pay tribute to Uncle Sam for the privilege of selling intoxicating liquors. Some little time was spent in scanning different pages of the ledger and copious notes were made.

DEWEY TO BE VICE ADMIRAL.

President McKinley and Secretary of the Navy Long have determined to recommend to Congress the revival of the grade of vice admiral, to be filled by the promotion of Rear Admiral Dewey. President McKinley, in his annual message, and Secretary Long, in his annual report, intend to devote considerable space to the achievements of the Asiatic squadron under the command of Rear Admiral Dewey, and the splendid judgment and diplomatic tact that officer has displayed in handling the many difficult questions which arose before the arrival of the American troops and the capture of Manila.

Authorities say that in advancing Rear Admiral Dewey to his present grade for services performed in the battle of Manila he was not rewarded to the extent that Rear Admiral Sampson and Schley were for gallant conduct in the battle of July 3, and that the commanding officer of the Asiatic squadron has received no tangible recognition for his work since May 1st, which involved the disposition of questions which arose with the insurgents and German admiral.

The action of President McKinley and Secretary Long will be heartily endorsed by all.

DRASTIC MEASURES ADOPTED.

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—Soldiers who returned from Honolulu on the steamer Senator state that drastic measures have been adopted there to enforce discipline. Foraging, it is said, had been carried on with a high hand. General King policed Honolulu with 100 mounted men and issued an order that any soldier caught foraging would be court-martialed and shot. Everything has been quiet since the order was issued.

The fire also burned Gracey Bros' coal and storage shed, the Louisville and Nashville depot, six freight cars on the track and several cottages.

BY TELEGRAPH.

BATTLE BETWEEN U. S. TROOPS AND INDIANS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 5.—A special to the Journal from Walker, Minn., says a terrific battle was fought at eleven o'clock this morning, thirty miles from Walker, at Bogah-ne-go-shirks point, close to Bear island. One hundred men under General Bacon landed on the point, shortly before eight o'clock, with considerable difficulty owing to the high sea. After landing, the soldiers searched the thick undergrowth carefully and every precaution was taken to guard against an ambush. No Indians were seen.

Shortly before eleven o'clock the men were ordered to line up in an open space near the lake shore and preparations were about to be made for dinner. The soldiers were standing in column formation when a shot was fired from the Bogah-ne-go-shirks. The ball struck Ed. Herneck, ex-marshal of Walker, a half-breed, breaking his arm. The firing immediately became general from all directions and it seemed as if a shot came from every bush. Three of General Bacon's men dropped and were carried to the rear.

When the first shot was fired every man in the command sprang to cover. General Bacon stood straight up and supported by Major Wilkinson, looked right into the eyes of the foe. "Steady men," he called, "keep cool! keep cool!" Again there came a rally from the Indians, and then the Kiag-jorgen sent opened up with a frightful rattle, just as the pillagers made a terrific rush. Half a dozen of them dropped and the rest fell back, yelling like fiends. There must have been 150 or 200 Indians.

Lieut. Morrison and twenty men made a rush to prevent the recapturing of Old Mah-nood and Tag-ne-dung; the marshal had these men under arrest. Lieut. Morrison's force scattered the Indians, who had attempted to rescue the prisoners. The Indians fired in a desultory way, and the order was given the troops to charge. The soldiers ran, ducking and dropping like grasshoppers. Shortly a volley was fired at the steam tug Flora, which lay off shore, and a score of bullets went through the boat and those on board, except the pilot, sought cover. Some blazed away in return with revolvers, but the range was too great. A volley was then fired at the tug Chief, of Duluth. Inspector Timken was shot through the leg and another ball passed through the sleeve of his coat.

The troops under General Bacon were sent under orders from Marshal O'Connor to reinforce twenty men under Lieut. Humphrey, who had been left there.

O'Connor escaped death by a miracle. The Indians fired a volley directly at him. The helmsman of the tug Jenne was shot through the arm and is badly hurt. The Indians gave the tug a final volley as she pulled out. The Flora will return at once with rations and ammunition.

Lieut. Humphrey was white with rage when the news reached him. His men have already started for the point. General Bacon is beyond telegraphic communication, and no boat can reach him for three hours.

St. Paul, Oct. 5.—An unconfirmed rumor has reached here that the soldiers under General Bacon have been massacred by the Indians.

LEICESTER, Mass., Oct. 5.—A Brainard telegraph operator says that the report of the massacre is true.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 5.—A telegram received at midnight from Walker, Minn., says a fierce fight between Indians and United States troops is still in progress. Marshal O'Connor reported several fatalities on the soldiers. A special train is coming from Brainard with one hundred armed citizens.

PANBESA'S LETTER.

An Account of an Egyptian City That Centuries Ago.

Probably the oldest letter in the world is the letter of Panbesa, written 15 centuries before Christ to his friend Amenhotep at a scribble.

This manuscript is of perishable papyrus, and it is amazing that it should have survived for more than 30 centuries and still be legible.

It is preserved in the collection of the British Museum. It has been several times translated during the present century. It presents an interesting picture of life in Egypt in the time of Ramesses II. It is more in the nature of a literary production, a poem composed in celebration of the visit of Pharaoh to the city of Ptah-Rameses, than an ordinary letter of today.

Panbesa "greeted his lord, the scribe Amenhotep, to whom he bore life, health and strength," and then goes on to describe the verdant fields, the thrashing floors, the vineyards, the groves of olives, the orchards of figs, the great daily markets, with their fish and waterfowl and swarms of purchasers.

The citizens had their "sweet wine of Khem, pomegranate wine and wine from the vineyards," and to these they added "beer of Khat."

There was music in plenty furnished by the musicians of the school of Memphis. On the whole, Ptah-Rameses seems to have been a pleasant place to live in. "The less or folk are there equal with the great folk," and Panbesa writes that his maidens were "in holiday attire every day" with locks "redolent of perfumed oil."—Washington Star.

A Method In His Manner.

It was raining cats and dogs outside, and the Columbus avenue car was crowded. A young woman stood looking from one seated man to another, but the men would not budge. She looked timidly, then appealingly, then dazedly, but they did not care.

Finally the worst dressed and roughest looking man in the car got up. "Here is a seat for you, mum," he said suavely.

"Oh, thank you ever so much," said the young lady, shooting glances at the other men which said, "You are gentlemen, but this uneducated laborer could give you a lesson in manners."

Presently she was shifting about on her seat, shielding now her face, now her white stand up collar and looking, with a troubled face, at a point in the ceiling from which the water came down at regular intervals in splashes as big as a cent.

The well-dressed men buried their smiles in their newspapers. The laborer, now unannounced in a corner near the driver, gave his vis-a-vis a wink.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

TAKEN FROM JAIL.

Colored Man at Annapolis Shot to Death by a Mob.

DOOMED MAN BEGGED FOR MERCY.

Was Accused of Foul Play on White Woman—Avengers Overpowered the Jail Watchman, Took Possession of His Keys and Dragged Their Victim Forth—Story of Crime.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 5.—Wright Smith, colored, who attempted an assault on Mrs. Morrison, the wife of Captain James Morrison, residing near Jones Station, was taken from jail shortly after 2 o'clock this morning and shot.

The lynching party went to the jail, pointed guns at Night Watchman Duval and took the prisoner to Sanders lot, near the city cemetery, and riddled his body with bullets. Smith begged for mercy, and cried "Murder" as he was being removed from jail.

At 2 o'clock this morning the bell rang at the front jail door. This is the night signal to bring in a prisoner. Watchman Thomas J. Duval went to the door. He took down the inside iron bar and as soon as he did the door was burst open, and half a dozen revolvers were pointed at his head. Behind them were masked men, and in the rear were more armed men. Without a word they forced the watchman to the second floor, and then they demanded the keys to the corridor and cells. He gave them up. The door of the corridor swung open, and straight to the cell of Smith went the men. The cell door was thrown wide open and the prisoner ordered to come out. Neither the assailants nor the doomed man had a word to say.

By this time the lynchers, 30 in number, crowded the jail corridors, some in light, white clothes and masks and some without masks. Watchman Duval says he could not make out any person individually, nor could he tell whether they were young or middle-aged men. The prisoner was compelled to go before the mob. He neither offered resistance nor uttered a word until he reached the front steps, on Calvert street. Then he gave a cry of "Murder." No time was lost, and he was shoved on before the lynchers, now numbering between 40 and 50. He was taken to the corner of Northwest street and Calvert, a distance of 50 yards. As Smith turned up Northwest street some one in the crowd struck him with a cobblestone, and he fell.

Then he cried "Murder," again, and when 10 yards in advance of the crowd the lynchers began to fire on the ravisher. He fled to the open lot on Northwest street, in the rear of Sanders' row of buildings. The moon gave sufficient light to let the lynchers see what they were doing. The reports of the revolvers aroused people in the vicinity, and on looking out of their windows they heard the fusillade of 50 shots or more and saw Smith fall dead on the grass. The lynchers quickly dispersed. The lynchings were evidently from the section of the assault. They came in barges, which were tied up on College Creek bridge, at the northern boundary of Annapolis.

The crime for which Smith was lynched occurred on the night of Sept. 2, while Captain Morrison was absent from home. The house was entered by a negro, who broke into the room occupied by Mrs. Morrison and her sister, and attempted to assault them. Both women fought desperately, and finally drove off their assailant.

Last Monday, Smith, who had disappeared from the neighborhood, was arrested in Baltimore and taken to Annapolis. Mrs. Morrison unhesitatingly identified him as her assailant. He trembled violently, but denied his guilt. There was much feeling among the prisoner from the time of his identification.

GENERAL WHEELER.

Continues His Testimony Before Committee of Investigation.

Washington, Oct. 5.—General Wheeler resumed his testimony before the War investigating committee today. The explanation on the line of the New York World charges was resumed. He said that if there were any "camp horrors" on the 25th of August as charged the commander of the camp was responsible, for he had full power to furnish relief. There were probably individual cases of suffering, but as a rule he knew the soldiers were well cared for. There was certainly no lack of food. The surgeons were authorized to expend 60 cents per day on each invalid soldier. In addition to this supply there were his own purchases and the contributions of the good ladies by whom the tents were filled with supplies. Furthermore, many individuals forwarded sums of money to him. As many as 30 checks were sent him, the largest being for $5000. He had in each case returned the checks because he did not think it proper that he should undertake the distribution of the food.

General Wheeler admitted that in many instances there were men ill in their camp quarters. Often men were very ill preferred not to go to the hospitals, and the hospitals were too crowded to make room for them. He also said there were times when it was necessary to put four men in a tent, saying that this arrangement did not necessitate unnecessary crowding or render the men uncomfortable.

Some time was spent on the charge that General Wheeler had said that General Egan, general commissary officer, had had countermanded an order of his for supplies. This occurred, he said, but it was due to a misconstruction of general orders No. 16 regarding the 50-cent daily rations for the sick. The trouble was soon remedied, not continuing more than two days.

General Wheeler also explained the circumstances concerning the death of Private Hugh Perret. He said Major Beach had investigated the occurrence and had made his report.

"My inquiry," said he, "developed the fact that Dr. Taber was a little gruff to the men, but it also developed the fact that he had proved so efficient in the field that they were devoted to him and had petitioned for his retention in the army.

Continuing, he said that the charge was that the man was not sent to the hospital when he had complained just before his death. This, he thought, was one of those individual cases of neglect and he thought it was to be explained by the fact that Dr. Taber was probably ill himself. He found this to be true in other cases, and had remonstrated with physicians for being irritable to patients, saying to them that he presumed it was because they were not well themselves.

To Separate the Gold From the Dross.

This Time It is the Medicinal Properties of a Well-Known Remedy That Are Obtained Intact.

From Now on It Will Not be Necessary to take the Obnoxious Parts of a Well-Known and Valuable Medicine in Order to be Benefited.

Physicians the world over have known of and believed in the virtues of cod liver oil. They have, alas, also realized its drawbacks and the impossibility of administering it where it would do good. Doctors have seen hundreds of people die of consumption and other wasting diseases, who they knew might have been saved had they only been able to take enough cod liver oil to obtain from it a sufficient amount of the medicinal principles which it contained.

It is not necessary to go to doctors to know why cod liver oil has not been a popular remedy, or to realize how few people are able to take enough of it to do them any good. The many who have needed and are still in need of a seating remedy, if they are still in a position where they should throw their hats in the air and shout their joy from the housetop at the news which comes to us of Vinol.

These are the people who will never forget the name of this new remedy, nor will they ever cease to thank Mr. Andrew P. Preston, our prominent druggist, who has become famous in the past few days, on account of his connection with the New York firm who are introducing the same remedy.

How simple it all sounds, now that we know of it. Here Mr. Preston has, right in his store, a preparation that tastes like delicious wine. It is a delicate wine, only there has been added to it this extract of the cod's liver, it is a peculiar special extract of the curative principles, the means of obtaining which is the only discovery about Vinol.

We do not believe there is an invalid in this city suffering from throat, lung or bronchial troubles, or in fact any one who has already interested in this preparation.

Mr. Preston is kept busy explaining its merits and telling his many friends how it is necessary to take all that is necessary to feed liver oil, or Vinol, its concentrated active medicinal principles, to overcome some disease. It has not been a difficult matter for him to explain, as he has done, the uselessness of the greasy self and to demonstrate the great value of the medicinal properties of the liver of the cod. It has not been necessary for him to tell sufferers from such troubles that fat does not make fat, but simply upsets and disarranges the stomach.

There are many people right here in our city who know from but a few days' experience how much benefit they are deriving from this preparation, and who have already learned that the medicinal properties of Vinol act in a most wonderful manner in checking the symptoms of disease, while at the same time enabling the stomach to assimilate and digest from palatable, every day food, the necessary nourishment to renew tissue depleted by disease.

Mr. Preston is justly pleased at the success that will attend the connection he has made with the prominent New York firm who are putting up this preparation, and justly deserves all the fame and profit that will attach themselves to his name, in account of his enterprise in first introducing Vinol to our city.

NAVY DEPARTMENT WILL NOT BE RESPONSIBLE FOR ARMY HUNDERS.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Public sentiment will not stand the attempt of the army to shift the responsibility for the misconduct of the war upon the navy.

The announcement this morning that General Corbin in his report to the commission engaged in investigating the war scandals, seeks to blame Rear Admiral Sampson for the army's treatment of Santiago, caused a profound sensation among naval officers. They resent the insinuation, and point with pride to the achievements of the navy in the war with Spain as compared with the doubtful victories of Shatter at Santiago and Miles at Porto Rico.

One of the ranking officers of the navy, declared today that the navy will welcome the fullest investigation as to its behavior during the war. "We challenge a comparison," said he, "with the army, and we are confident the intelligent people of the whole world will agree that the navy did its work systematically, successfully and scientifically. I cannot believe that General Corbin or General Wheeler are sincere when they attempt to saddle on the navy the misfortunes which befell our troops at Santiago. The navy is willing to stand up on its record at Manila and Santiago."

Another naval officer of high rank regarded as one of the ablest and bravest men in the service, denounced the effort to cloud the naval record at Santiago as too petty to require serious consideration. "Said he, 'Public sentiment has been formed concerning the achievements of the navy, and the entire army, from the commanding general down to a camp cook cannot destroy the impression created by the work accomplished by the navy at Manila and Santiago.'"

There was trouble at Santiago," he added, "but the difficulty was not with the navy, it was with the bungling of the transport business. It would have been better for Secretary Alger to have selected an experienced steamship man to have superintended the movements of the transports. A naval officer or a trained steamboat man should have been selected for that duty. What does General Wheeler know about loading and unloading transports? He is a car builder, some here in Machias, who has had no experience with ships. He was selected to superintend the transportation of troops. He may be up in the railroad business, but he has demonstrated his utter ignorance about the handling of transports."

At this time it seems unwise on the part of the army to try to drag the navy into the investigation of the war now in progress. The navy has everything to gain by such an investigation, while the army must necessarily suffer by comparison. The system prevailing in the navy is progressive and up-to-date. Also of troops are allowed to use their discretion when emergency arises and commanding officers of vessels are not hampered by red tape of ancient pattern and doubtful texture.

The concluding sentence of every paragraph in the naval regulations says: "Or at the discretion of the commanding officer. This gives men like Dewey, Schley, Sampson and Winthright discretion to think and act in the hour of danger."

ELECTRICS COLLIDE.

Somerset, N. H., Oct. 5.—Marry F. Moran and Nellie Lawler are in a critical condition today as the result of a collision on the Union Electric railway here last night. Two cars were returning from Dover with passengers, who had attended the theater there. It was raining and the heavily loaded car was coming up Route's hill, which is very steep, the wheels slipped on the wet rails and the car slid back to the bottom, and another car coming down Wingate's hill at good speed crashed into it. Miss Moran and Miss Lawler were thrown from their seats and badly injured. Miss Moran, Kate, was killed and Mr. and Mrs. L. Hall were less seriously hurt. The cars were considerably damaged.

PHYSICIAN SUICIDES.

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 5.—Dr. Charles L. Fox, bacteriologist of the local health department, and a prominent young physician, shot himself through the heart, in his apartment, at 1:30 o'clock this morning, after returning from a sociable. He was discovered lying dead on the floor by his neighbor, Mr. Frederick Fisher, who had left him only a few minutes before. He had been dependent for the past few months, owing to continued poor health. Dr. Fox was the son of the late Lorenzo W. Fox, a former prominent Lowell physician, and nephew of former Secretary of the Navy Gustavus Fox. He was 28 years old, and a graduate of Harvard medical school and the University of Vienna.

SPAIN SELLS GUNBOATS.

Madrid, Oct. 5.—The government has sanctioned the sale, to South American republics, of the Spanish gunboats lying in Cuban waters. A newspaper here declared that Major General Merritt has asserted that the Philippine Islands must be annexed to the United States. Former Secretary of State, Mr. Blaine, has replied, saying he does not believe the statement attributed to the general, which, he adds, is not in conformity with the peace protocol.

MORE TIME WANTED

Spanish Say They Cannot Go Out of Cuba Immediately.

THIS IN REPLY TO OUR DEMANDS.

After Two Hours Conference No Agreement Reached—Our Commissioners Send Code Messages to Washington, Blanco Suspends Order Disbanding Provisional Battalions.

Havana, Oct. 5.—At the joint session yesterday morning of the United States and Spanish military commissions, Spaniards, according to a report, declared it was impossible to evacuate the island immediately, while the American commissioners insisted that their instructions called for an immediate evacuation. After two hours' conference on the subject, the joint commissions were unable to reach any definite agreement.

The American commissioners, on their return to their headquarters at the Trotecha hotel, Velasco, were busy engaged in translating the stenographic notes and in sending code messages to Washington.

The distribution of rations from the Comal, now at Matanzas, began yesterday.

Mrs. Sampson, the wife of Rear Admiral Sampson, has engaged a teacher for the purpose of studying Spanish.

The Cuban general, Pedro Diaz, spent Monday on the outskirts of the city of Havana del Rio, where he was enthusiastically welcomed by the population. The well-known trapeze artist, Juan Gillette Gomez, and Colonel Garcia, a son of General Calixto Garcia of the Cuban army, accompanied by Mateo Pinales, have arrived here as a special commission charged with the task of uniting the different Cuban parties in favor of independence.

Captain General Blanco yesterday suspended the order issued several days ago to disband the provisional battalions, reentering the regular troops. This is a concession for this step is not known.

Charles W. Gould of New York, the special representative of the department of justice on the United States Cuban military commission, has visited the supreme court and obtained considerable information in reference to the administration of justice in Cuba.

OUR PEACE COMMISSION.

CONFERS FURTHER WITH GENERAL MERRITT. IT HAS DEWEY'S VIEWS ALSO.

Paris, Oct. 5.—The United States peace commission held its usual session today from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. The commissioners continued their conference with General Merritt and practically concluded an extended canvass of the Philippine situation. The members of the commission discussed the views of General Merritt or Admiral Dewey in regard to the policy to be pursued toward the people of the Philippines.

Nothing could be learned as to whether the general or the admiral had recommended the evacuation of the Philippines by the American troops. But it developed that Admiral Dewey had a General Merritt a communication setting forth his judgment on the subject, and that the general submitted this to the commission with reports from the American military officers at Manila touching this question prevailing in the island.

General Merritt is credited with a declaration of his judgment in the matter, and it may be said that he arrived in Paris hoping the United States commission would pass for the possession of the Philippine archipelago.

It is believed that the disposition of the troops in the Philippine Islands, before General Merritt's departure, was such and was so ordered as to warrant the view that a large or complete holding of the Philippine Islands by the United States was contemplated.

Two Spanish senators and photographers will arrive here from Madrid on Thursday. Also of troops are allowed to use their discretion when emergency arises and commanding officers of vessels are not hampered by red tape of ancient pattern and doubtful texture.

PROVISIONS AT KLONDIKE.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 5.—An estimate of the amount of provisions on the Yukon river indicates that there will be no need of a government relief expedition this winter. The two big transportation companies have a lease 20,000 tons at various points on the river. The North American Trading and Transportation company is credited with these figures: Fort Yukon, 1500; Rampart City, 1000; Eagle City, 500; Ferry City, 100. The Alaska Commercial company has about the same amounts on hand, except at Dawson, where it has about 7000. Trading posts have recently been established by the two companies on the Koyukok, the Alaska Commercial company located at Arctic City and the North American Trading and Transportation company at Ferry City, five miles above.

DUE TO RELIGION.

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—In a signed interview regarding the recent disturbances near Pekin, Ho Yow, the Chinese consul here says: "I believe that the recent trouble in China is due to religion; to efforts of the missionaries to carry on their work and the antagonistic relations existing between the Chinese, who still cling to their faith of centuries, and those who have adopted the ideas of the Christian religion. I do not think it will result seriously, owing to the fact that there is lack of co-operation."

SHERMAN HOAR'S CONDITION.

Concord, Mass., Oct. 5.—Hon. Sherman Hoar did not have as comfortable a night last night as could be wished, although no particularly unfavorable symptoms were noted this forenoon. The apparent confusion as to the crisis in his illness results from the fact that when Mr. Hoar first became ill he was suffering from pneumonia and typhoid symptoms developed later.

GONE AFTER HAGAN.

Boston, Oct. 5.—Inspector Shields and Sergeant O'Neill have started for Chicago to bring back Arthur O'Hagan, the alleged murderer of Charles Lamont Russell, who was killed in Chapin's drug store here April 4. The requisition papers were made out yesterday.

TO BE EFFENDED JPON.

Because It is the Experience of a Portsmouth Citizen and His Family Be Investigated.

Suppose you were an utter stranger in a large city and had completely lost your way, whose guidance could you place the most confidence in—the stranger's lost like yours if, or a resident's born and bred in the city? When a ship reaches the offing of a strange port, who hand directs the pilot and brings her safe to her moorings? A trusty pilot or a greenhorn? Whose opinions, experience and statements can the reader depend upon the more, those published from bona fide Portsmouth citizens or those originally drafted in every hole and corner of the Union, except your own Portsmouth and its suburbs? Read this Portsmouth case:

Mr. Tros, Latwistle, city marshal, says:—"I was never troubled very much with my kidneys but I had a very sharp attack of lameness of the back and pain across the loins. At the time I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Philbrick's pharmacy I was suffering much distress. It hurt me to make any sudden movement and sharp twinges seized me in the small of the back when rising from a chair. I took but a few doses when I found they were helping me and before I had finished the whole box I was quite free from pain. I have had no trouble since. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for aching and lameness in the back. I consider them an honest medicine and possessing all the merits claimed for them."

DEMOCRATS CHOOSE A COUNTY TICKET.

Every Name on the Ticket Chosen by Acclamation.

GEORGE W. SANBORN OF EAST KINGSTON NAMED FOR SHERIFF.

W. E. Marvin, Newcastle, Nominated For County Solicitor.

The democratic convention for Rockingham county was held in the old court house in this city at 11:30 today and the following ticket was nominated by acclamation.

For sheriff—George W Sanborn, East Kingston.

For Solicitor—William E Marvin, Newcastle.

For Treasurer—William L Conlon, Portsmouth.

For Register of Deeds—Frank O Towle, South Hampton.

For Register of Probate—A S Langley, Exeter.

For Commissioners—C C Tucker, Deerfield; Charles E Hand, Portsmouth; J B Brown, North Hampton.

The convention was harmonious and the delegates were enthusiastic in naming the list of candidates which they have, as above presented for the consideration of the voters of the county. There was not a dissenting vote on any nomination and after the convention opened the business was rushed through in a business like manner.

The convention was called to order by E. L. Guphill, Esq., of this city and the first business was the appointment of a committee to bring in a list of officers for permanent organization, the following committee being chosen: Charles A. Morse, Newmarket; Joseph A. Tilton, East Kingston; True L Norris, Portsmouth.

John J. Warren Towle of Exeter was chosen chairman of the convention and Allison L. Pinney of this city was named for clerk.

The committee on credentials reported ninety-nine delegates entitled to sit in the convention of which ninety-one were present. The report was approved.

Chairman Guphill of the committee on resolutions reported the following declaration, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that this convention most heartily endorses the platform of the democratic state convention of Sept. 20 and we pledge our earnest support to the nominees of this convention.

The committee on permanent organization reported the following committees:

On credentials—George F. Emery, Plaistow; Frank C. Marston, Portsmouth; William P. Hawes, Derry.

On resolutions—Ernest L. Guphill, Portsmouth; S. R. Peavy, Exeter; Thomas Ledy, Newfields; Frank R. Morrill, East Kingston; George L. Randall, Exeter; Fred O. Tilton, Deerfield; George M. Goodwin, Exeter.

The report was unanimously adopted. The next business was the nomination of a candidate for sheriff and John S Wendell of Exeter arose and in a short speech introduced the name of George W Sanborn of East Kingston and moved that he be unanimously nominated. The name of Mr Sanborn was loudly applauded and the motion was seconded all over the hall. There was a grand yell of yeas when Chairman Towle called for the vote. The announcement of the result was also heartily applauded.

As soon as the noise had abated E. L. Guphill presented the name of W E Marvin of Newcastle for county solicitor. Mr Guphill spoke of the clean record and ability of the young man he had named and asked that the nomination be made as the first had been. There was another loud shout of approval.

All the other nominations were made in the same manner, with the exception of that of register of deeds, which was made by ballot, but Frank O Towle of North Hampton had every ballot cast.

W L Conlon was named for treasurer by James Rowe of Brentwood, and James Hallin of Exeter made the motion for the unanimous choice of A S Langley of that town for register of probate.

It was voted that any vacancies occurring in the ticket be filled by the county committee.

Before the motion to adjourn had been put, chairman Towle congratulated the convention for the harmony which had prevailed and stated that with the hearty support which the ticket should receive, should make it a victorious one.

POLICE NEWS

Items Gathered by the Station Today by the Herald Reporter

The arrests by the police yesterday afternoon and last evening included one for indecent exposure, one drunk, and one alleged hotel beat. There were five lodgers at the station house. The one for indecent exposure was a young man belonging in Maine and employed here. He was arrested on the complaint of the mother of a young girl. The arrest was made by Marshal Entwistle. At a private session of court before Judge Emery at 3 o'clock the young man was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $10 and costs of $6.13.

At 5.40 a man suffering from excessive intoxication called at the station and asked to be detained for safe keeping as he realized that if he continued on the spree he was indulging in, he would have an attack of delirium tremens.

The one arrested for alleged hotel beating was taken into custody at 7.20 by officer Holbrook on the complaint of Charles Webb, proprietor of the New Marlboro. The case will probably be settled without coming to court.

CONCERT AND LECTURE.

In spite of the threatening weather on Wednesday evening, the 5th inst., a good-sized crowd attended the concert and lecture in Philbrick hall under the auspices of the A. O. H.

The musical part of the programme was rendered wholly by local talent, the following well-known singers taking part: Patrick Kane, Mrs Percy Frye, Miss Mary McCarthy and Master Freeman Caswell.

The event of the evening, however, was the address by Hon. P. J. Finn, the Dan Dougherty of Philadelphia. Pa. Mr. Finn took for his subject, "Irish Loyalty to American Liberty," and he held the close attention of the audience all through. It was a stirring address and was deserving of the enthusiastic applause which Mr. Finn received at its close.

POLICE COURT.

John G. Johnson, a young married man, was arraigned before Judge Emery in the latter's private office, on Wednesday afternoon, the 5th inst., and pleaded not guilty to indecent conduct. The complaint was made by the mother of a seven-years old-school girl who alleged that Johnson coaxed the little one into a certain place and acted shamefully. The court found him guilty and imposed a fine of ten dollars and costs taxed at $6.13 which was paid. Johnson was defended by S. Peter Emery.
